Furniture Dept.

(FOURTH FLOOR.)

Every city has its furniture stores. In one you find extravagant work, in another mean.

Is there another anywhere with enough of every grade to choose from? well made according to what belongs to its grade of designs that surprise you into admiration at every turn?

No maker does everything well. The way to get such a collection of work as we have here is to go to all the makers for it. More than that. We furnish designs—arbitrarily picking up designs that bright thoughts—when ever a bright thought comes to us off it goes to the furniture maker.

We have big trade that justifies it. That is how our stock is changing every day.

HE ADMIRER COL. SELLS.

A Peasant Figure in the Big Funeral
Procession Yesterday.

One of the most conspicuous features of the funeral procession of the late Allen Sells yesterday afternoon, was a colored man on horseback following closely behind the hacks. The oddity of this figure created a great deal of comment on what was otherwise a sad and impressive parade.

The colored man rode a white freckled horse that appeared to be a stranger to oats and not on speaking terms with hay. The man wore a calico coat trimmed with pieces of red cloth in two rows down the back. He rode with the haughty air of a knight and the dignity of a drum-major.

This man is undoubtedly unbalanced mentally, but he was none the less of the greatest admirers Col. Sells ever had. His devotion to Mr. Sells knew no bounds. The friendship began several years ago when Mr. Sells went on his band wagon when he was charged with assault with intent to kill, and it was by word brought about his acquittal. This service the colored man never forgot and probably never will.

TAKE CHARGE OF BROGAN.

The Trades Assembly Perform a Worthy and Charitable Deed.

Frank Brogan, the victim of Police-man Capron's too hasty revolver, was given aid by the trades assembly last night. After being turned out of the hospital before his recovery by those who are morally bound to care for him, and after being "passed by on the other side" by the police commissioners and others, the trades assembly, Samaritan-like, offers charity of the practical sort.

It was voted to keep Brogan for two weeks, or longer if necessary, at Adams' boarding house in Fourth street, between Kansas avenue and Quincy. He was taken to the place by the secretary, J. G. Samuelson. When they reached the boarding house, Samuelson asked:

"Are you hungry?" Perhaps you would like something to eat?"

"I guess I can get along until morning," replied Brogan, and the unfortunate man broke down completely and cried.

It was learned that he had nothing to eat all day, with the exception of a scrap of bread, which he begged at a house early in the morning.

MRS. CASE'S CASE.

A Topeka Woman Lawyer Has Her First Suit in Court.

Topeka has a lady practicing lawyer, and she has filed her first suit. Mrs. L. O. Case is the lady who can first claim the distinction. She has been studying law in the office of her husband, A. H. Case, for some time past, and filed her petition the other day.

The suit is brought by Nancy E. Farley against Lawyer Joe Ward. It appears that Joe Ward bought some law books of the plaintiff last September and owes $100 on the account of a promissory note he gave her. The case came up for trial before Justice Grover yesterday morning but was continued for fifteen days.

Mrs. Case has been connected with charitable, temperance and equal suffrage work in this city for several years, and now she proposes to help her sex in matters of law.

MEND THE PAVEMENTS

Our Beautiful Streets will Fall Into a Bad State,

THROUGH NEGLECT OF REPAIRS.

The Citizens Demand That the Asphalt Streets be Kept Up—No More Faltering About the Matter Can be Expected.

Topeka's beautiful asphalt paved streets which have come to be one of the most complimented features of the capital city, are in need of some repair; but as yet no steps have been taken towards making this much-needed improvement.

The stringency, with which the city treasury abounds, is given by some of the councilmen as the cause of this delay. There is a disposition among others who "don't like the asphalt," to let it wear out, so that a brick pavement may be put in its place. "The sooner the asphalt wears out," they say, "the better."

This is a wrong view to take of the matter. There is no doubt but that the asphalt is the most desirable pavement of any of the varieties now in use in Topeka, except for the purposes of heavy traffic. It is too good and costly an article to be neglected; and a majority of the citizens of Topeka favor the retention of the asphalt pavements we already have, even if they are costly.

The five-year guarantee of the Barber Asphalt Paving company expired on most of the streets over a year ago, and it has since expired on all of them. Heretofore all the needed repairs were required of the company which laid it; but now it must be taken care of by the city at its own expense or not at all. The streets are now wholly under the care of the mayor and council.

There have been no repairs made on the asphalt by the city as yet, except in one or two places, where Colonel Bradford has been allowed to put down Indian Territory asphalt as an experiment. The result is that it is in wretched condition. It has a worn-down-at-the-bezel appearance. It is also badly cracked and defective as to need immediate attention. The pavement, like anything else in need of repair, can have a delayed too long, until it is beyond repair.

The project for the council to do is to let the contract for keeping the pavement in repair to some responsible person or company, capable of meeting the needs of the city in this direction. At one time, a year ago, when the council contemplated such a move as this, the Barber Asphalt people were asked to state their best figures at which they could take the contract. Their proposition in reply was $250 per square yard where it was necessary to repair the whole pavement, concrete and all; or $1.00 where the asphalt only was repaired.

Although this is the same price demanded of other cities for the same work the figure seemed large to the city council, with the city having pressed financially. Col. Bradford, however, offered a surprise for his native townsmen, and the councilmen had grave doubts regarding the merits of his article. Anybody by an examination of what he has done can see that his material is comparatively worthless.

City Engineer Klingman estimates that it would cost the city $10,000 a year to keep the pavement properly repaired.

The Barber company says these figures are absurdly high.

Major Harrison says that he considers the asphalt pavement unable to meet the requirements of the residence streets of the heavy business traffic put upon it. "I wish," the major says, "that we had a brick pavement on Kansas Avenue, instead of asphalt. I will be glad when the asphalt is worn out, so we can make the change." The major said it might not be a bad idea to let the pavement wear out without repairs, were it not for the trouble that would result during the wearing-out process. The major believes, however, that Mr. Klingman's estimate of $10,000 is large. He called it "visionary."

Resolved, That we commendate Mr. Sheldon upon his able, dignified and truthful presentation of the important subject of Christian socialism and the need of the application of its principles as a remedy for wrongs now suffered by humanity.

Resolved, That we commendate the example of Brother Sheldon in thus preaching the essential paramount doctrine of the brotherhood of man as one worthy of general imitation by the clergy of all denominations.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this assembly, and that copies thereof be transmitted to Mr. Sheldon and furnished to the press for publication.

of electric wires now overhead by reason of the increased fire and casualty hazard. This story is not believed by Jim Bear, the head of the new telephone company. Mayor Harrison returned from Kansas City last night, and was seen by a Journal reporter today. He said: "I cannot say yet what I will do with the telephone ordinance. I have been out of town so much all the week, I really have not had time to examine it, and I don't even know what it contains."

REGISTERED 6,500.

The Total Number of Voters Quite Large for an Off Year.

The registration books closed last night at 10 o'clock. The rush yesterday was great, as is usual on the last day. About 700 people registered.

The total registration at the city hall is 4,794 men and 1,403 women, a total of 6,197. To this should be added about 200 additional names added to the books of the First ward. The total registration is not far from 6,500.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Items of Interest From the Various Municipal Departments.

The dog-tax collector has turned $30 into the city treasury this month.

City Engineer Lewis Kingman has given no information to his subordinates when he likely to return. They expect him Monday.

Contractor Hawkins, having in charge the repairs at the electric light plant, is working twelve men and expects to have the job done by April 15th.

The fire alarm box which the council ordered for the corner of Eleventh and Van Buren streets, is on its way and will be placed in position in a few days. It will be No. 89.

The police commissioners have held no meeting since the council ordered them to discharge their sanitary policemen. When they meet tonight they will probably put the order "on file," as the council has theirs.

Chairman Ernest and several members of the streets and walks committee went out to Western Avenue and Second streets and looked over the ground where the street force is making a big grade. As it will cost $1,500 to complete the work, it will be put only in passable condition and dropped temporarily.

THEY ENDORSE SHELDON.

The Topska Pastor's Sermons on Socialism Please Junction City People.

The following resolutions have been unanimously adopted by Progress assembly Knights of Labor, at Junction City:

Resolved, That we, the members of Progress assembly, No. 2671, Knights of Labor, note with pleasure the announcement that a series of sermons on social problems is being delivered by Rev. C. M. Sheldon of the Central Congregational church, Topeka, Kansas, in which, judging from the printed report we have seen of the first of the series, bold and advanced ground is taken for the cause of labor and the betterment of the social condition of the human race.

Resolved, That we congratulate Mr. Sheldon upon his able, dignified and truthful presentation of the important subject of Christian socialism and the need of the application of its principles as a remedy for wrongs now suffered by humanity.

Resolved, That we commend the example of Brother Sheldon in thus preaching the essential paramount doctrine of the brotherhood of man as one worthy of general imitation by the clergy of all denominations.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this assembly, and that copies thereof be transmitted to Mr. Sheldon and furnished to the press for publication.

ASK CY LEANDER.

To the Editor of the State Journal.

Will you please explain to your readers, if you can, why it is that Topeka Capital is so solicitous about harmony in the Republican ranks, and advocating a division of delegates to that harmonious end in the matter of the gubernatorial contest?

Why is this contest any different in the principles of harmony than the recent contest for mayor, in which the Capital made such a personal campaign before nomination, even to the extent of abusing a prominent citizen of its own town?

Yours truly,

J. THOMAS.
Peabody, Kans., March 23, 1894.

HONOR TO DARTMOUTH!

Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., Whose Giant Intellect Discovered Paine's Celery Compound.

Two giants among men—the greatest statesman and the greatest physician that America ever produced—Daniel Webster and Edward E. Phelps—have both done honor to Dartmouth college, one as a student, the other as an instructor.

To Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., the world today owes longer life and more freedom from sickness than any other physician.

Every Dartmouth alumnus of more than a dozen years' standing remembers the awe in which he held the keen observer whose name appeared in the college catalogue next to that of the president as professor of materia medica; and every younger graduate has admired the complete museum of medical botany which Dr. Phelps gave to his college.

He had for years foreseen the dangers of the American way of living. He went about to find a scientific, common sense remedy to cure the common evil that, under one name or another, result from an unhealthy state of the nervous system, and within a score of years, have seemed to be sweeping over the country like an epidemic.

He succeeded.

He gave to the medical profession a celebrated remedy, which has since come to be known the world over as Paine's celery compound.

It was Dr. Phelps' prescription, which ever since has been freely used and prescribed by the most eminent of the profession. The recent advice of Commodore Howell to use this compound, which the comodore publicly said had saved his own life, and the published testimonials of Mayor McShane of Montreal, the poet-author Hardy, George Wright, Marie Tempest, Congressman Morse, Daniel Jenness, and other men and women of international reputation, has brought the compound into special notice.

As a well known physician in this city says: "Paine's celery compound is not a patent medicine; it is not a sorceress; it is not a mere tonic; it is not an ordinary nerve—it is as far beyond them all as the diamond is superior to cheap glass."

Dr. L. D. McKinley.

Will do a general practice of medicine except obstetrics. Special attention will be given to diseases of children and all forms of chronic diseases. Office in Chester
